Unitarian Conference Brings 200 Delegates Here Last Sunday

The local Unitarian church was host to the Connecticut Valley conference of Unitarian churches last Sunday and nearly 200 official delegates were in attendance. William L. Harris, Jr., of Hartford, as president, presided at the gathering. The sessions began at 3 o'clock when Mrs. L. Percy Goodspeed, church organist, played the organ prelude and a devotional service was led by Rev. Joseph Allen of Barnardston.

The conference secretary, Rev. Robert Raible of Greenfield, gave a report of the year's work. The treasurer's report was given by Miss Harriet Childs of Deerfield, who also reported for the budget committee. Mrs. John Sawyer of Northampton read a report of the student work committee. A report of the Southern New England council and the united Unitarian drive was given by Rev. Earle Davis of Petersham.

After a report of the nominating committee, given by Mrs. J. A. Frandsen of Amherst, the following officers were chosen: President, Dr. Everett E. Thompson of Springfield; vice-president, James Stearns of Hartford, Ct.; secretary, Rev. Edward H. Caplan of Florence; treasurer, Miss Childs; director for three years, Edgar Burr Smith of Greenfield; for two years, Miss Alice Chapin of Chicago; for one year, John H. Sawyer of Northampton.

Two new ministers in valley churches, Rev. Payson Miller of Hartford and Rev. Robert Killam of Springfield, were introduced. Dr. Harry Gilbert of Springfield spoke on "The Rowe of the Future." Dr. Gilbert is president of the Rowe Camp corporation. He presented promising plans and dreams for the camp.

Supper was served to the delegates at the town hall by a committee of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Miller.

The evening session began with organ music and a devotional service led by Rev. Dr. Miller. The address of the evening was given by Miss Mildred Boie, editor of the New Christian Register of Boston, who spoke on "Service Fronts at Home and Abroad." She told of the accomplishments of the Unitarian service committee and its work in the relief of distress and misery among war victims. She also told of the plans for Unitarian service.

Mr. Miller pronounced a benediction and the members and delegates enjoyed a social hour.

Red Cross First Aid Has Second Course

More than 40 people from Northfield, East Northfield, West Northfield and Mt. Hermon have enrolled in the second American Red Cross standard first aid course. Classes are being held weekly in the town hall under the sponsorship of the Northfield committee on public safety. Raymond George of Montague, who is vice-chairman of the first aid committee for Franklin county is instructing. The schedule of classes is as follows:

Monday, Oct. 27; Monday, Nov. 3; Thursday, Nov. 13; Monday, Nov. 17; Monday, Nov. 24; Monday, Dec. 1; Thursday, Dec. 11; Monday, Dec. 15.

Those who are enrolled in the course may not miss more than two of these classes to qualify for a certificate at the end of the course. In the first two classes Mr. George has covered the need and purposes of first aid and general directions for giving care. Also a brief outline of the anatomy and physiology of the body, simple bandages and types of wounds.

Sunday Services At Hermon-Seminary

The Rev. and Mrs. R. S. Modak of Ahmednagar, Deccan, India, will present a "Portrayal of Everyday Life in India" for the students of the Northfield schools at evening vespers services on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Modak will give a program in Sage chapel at 5, and again at Mt. Hermon Memorial chapel at 7:30.

At the Sunday morning services Dr. Arthur Lee Kinsolving, rector of Trinity church, Princeton, N. J., will preach in Memorial chapel at Mt. Hermon at 10:30. Dr. Kinsolving is a familiar figure in Northfield and was one of the principal speakers at the Girls' conference last June. Dr. David R. Porter will preach at Sage chapel, the Seminary at 11 o'clock.

An Ordained Minister Is The Rev. E. C. Dahl. Pastor Local Church

The churches of the Franklin County Association of Congregational churches, after the holding of a council last Friday afternoon in the local church, unanimously after an examination, recommended the ordination of the Rev. Edward C. Dahl as a minister of the denomination and pastor of the Trinitarian Congregational church. There was a large attendance of the representatives and many guests who were invited, represented other churches in the nearby districts, including the churches of Mount Hermon school and the Seminary.

The Rev. George A. Tuttle, field secretary for western Massachusetts of the Congregational churches, presided as the Moderator for both the council session and the service of ordination in the evening.

After the council meeting, the visitors were served a supper in the vestry of the church and it was followed by a social period, when at 7:30 o'clock, the ordination and service of recognition began.

The program as published in last week's Press was followed. The sermon was by Rev. Halford E. Luccock of the Yale Divinity school, whose subject was "Being Here," emphasizing the need of a definite plan and a firm resolution for congregation and minister to carry forward in a new chapter for the cause of Christ and for humanity. The large audience, who had gathered listened attentively and in a reverential mood followed through the service of ordination, resolved to be of individual service to the tasks to be undertaken.

In the ordination, the resolution of the council was presented by the Moderator and the "laying on of hands" was participated by the various clergymen on the platform. The prayer of ordination was by the Rev. George Dahl of Yale Divinity school, father of Rev. Edward C. Dahl. After the singing of the Doxology, the right hand of fellowship was extended and Rev. Max H. Webster, secretary of the Vermont Congregational conference, gave the "charge" to the pastor, admonishing him to faithfulness and to a strict accounting of "His words" in thought and action. Rev. W. E. Park, president of the Northfield schools, gave the "charge" to the people. His remarks were brief and pointed. He summed it up, by saying that the minister needed their love, the smile of their countenance, their friendly counsel and the assumption of their responsibilities, as individuals in the program of the church. A loyal and responsive congregation united in the leadership of its ministry, can go forward in its program to serve its Christ, and His people.

After the benediction and organ postlude, Rev. Mr. Dahl was greeted by those attending with many encouraging words. Miss Daisy Holton presided at the organ and the vested choir directed by I. J. Lawrence rendered selections and led the singing. The service of ordination was in charge of the deacons of the church.

Tax Collector's Hours

In addition to the regular Thursday office hours at town hall from 1 to 4 and 7 to 8, the tax collector will also have office hours as follows: Farnum's Service Station, South Vernon, Tuesday, Oct. 28, 10:30 to 11:30; Northfield Farms at P. V. Woods store, Tuesday, Oct. 28, 12:45 to 1:45; at Buffum's Filling Station, East Northfield, Oct. 29, 1 to 2; at town hall, Saturday, Nov. 1, from 1 to 2.

Town Defense Meeting Plans Fully Arranged Next Week Friday Eve

The local Civilian Defense committee, of which George McEwan is chairman, have arrangements about completed for the public defense gathering, which will be held at the town hall next Friday evening, Oct. 31 at 8 o'clock. The speaker will be the regional director of District 2, Howard A. Meyerhoff of Northampton, who will outline the purpose of civilian defense, the why and wherefore. All of our citizens have here provided the opportunity for getting full and complete information regarding their status if an emergency arises. John Haseltine of Greenfield who is the county chairman of the defense efforts is expected to be on hand and to speak as well as Mrs. Charles Fairhurst who heads the women's division. Members of the local defense committee will have seats on the platform and Mr. McEwan will preside. No tickets of admission of any kind are required but an urgent request is being made that Northfield folks respond and fill town hall to a capacity audience. Mr. Meyerhoff has been speaking throughout this part of the state, in the various communities and his talks have been very informative and instructive. It will be a worthwhile venture to attend and be informed which would also mean being prepared.

Foreign Policy Ass'n Plans For Season

The Foreign Policy association, Franklin county affiliate, announces through its president, Ira B. Wheeler of Greenfield, that the opening meeting for the season will be Tuesday evening, Nov. 4 at the Weldon hotel, where luncheon will be served. It will also be the annual meeting for the election of officers. The guest speaker will be Prof. Hans Kohn, author and writer of many books and platform lecturer, and on the faculty of Smith college. Born in Prague, Austrian soldier, Russian prisoner, student in Paris, London and Jerusalem, lecturer at Harvard and many other American colleges, since 1934 professor of history at Smith—Dr. Kohn is a brilliant and profound writer and speaker. The association has membership representation in Northfield and on the executive committee to represent Mount Hermon is Dr. David R. Porter and Northfield, Miss Mira B. Wilson and Miss Eleanor Davis.

G. O. P. Women Lunch

The Franklin - Hampshire - Hampden - Berkshire Women's Republican club will be guests of the Franklin County Womens Republic club at a luncheon meeting at Hotel Weldon today (Friday). Mrs. Rufus W. Fuller of Deerfield, president of the Franklin county club will preside and introduce several well known guest speakers. The luncheon will be served at 12:30 p. m. Several Republican women will be in attendance to represent Northfield.

Mrs. William G. Dwight, owner and publisher of the Holyoke Transcript-Telegram, will be honored for her 60 years' service with that newspaper at the meeting and will speak.

Carroll L. Meins of the committee of public utilities of Massachusetts and former secretary to Gov. Saltonstall will discuss the state administration and Rep. Allen T. Treadway will speak on highlights of Washington. Mrs. Charles Fairhurst, director of defense schools, will speak on defense.

The Evening Auxiliary meets this Friday evening at the home of Miss Edna Cullen and Miss Alice Mundee on Highland Ave. 1 to 2.

IT'S THE HALLOWE'EN SEASON

Give the Kiddies a "break" and let them enjoy the season of Hallowe'en. It even brings back many pleasant memories to us—the older folks.

Congregational Church Services Of The Week

Services and engagements for the week are as follows:

Sunday: 10 a. m., Sunday school; 11, morning worship with sermon by Mr. Dahl, "Things that Cannot be Shaken"; 6:30, Christian Endeavor meeting with musical program by members of the group; 7:30, evening service with sermon by the pastor on "Malachi and God's Messenger"; 8:15, Young Peoples Forum with a speaker from India.

Tuesday at 3, Tuesday Bible class with Mrs. Giebel, leader.

Wednesday at 8, Christian Endeavor Hallowe'en party at the Greenwood's.

Thursday, 7:15, prayer meeting in the church; 8, choir rehearsal.

The Hostels Conference Here This Week-end

The American Youth Hostels, will hold its seventh annual convention Saturday and Sunday at the headquarters here on Main street. Taking place at the same time will be the annual fall roundup of the house parents.

The delegates will be greeted by Monroe Smith, national director. The chairman for the first session will be William Nelson, director of the New England region, and will continue after lunch through the early part of the afternoon, until the national council convenes, under the chairmanship of Julien Cornell of New York, chairman of the executive committee.

Saturday evening will find the delegates enjoying colored movies of AYH 1941 activities, square and folk dancing and a general good time in front of the large fireplace in the local hostel.

Sunday morning chapel services will be led by Rev. Edward C. Dahl.

An important phase of the convention will be the election of new members to the national board. Among the nominees will be Leverett Saltonstall, Governor of Massachusetts; Harry N. Holmes, of the World Alliance of Friendship through the Churches; John Judkyn, director of the New York office of the American Friends Service committee; Lester F. Scott, national executive of the Camp Fire Girls of America; Fred R. Sites, of the U. S. Steel Corp., Pittsburgh, Pa.; Mrs. Harrison Elliott, national president of Y. W. C. A., and Elbert K. Fretwell, of the national executive committee of the Boy Scouts of America.

Hostels in the United States are divided into eight geographical regions, each headed by a field-worker. There are 253 hostels in the various states. In 1941, there were 12,648 hostel passholders in the United States. Hostels are established in loops or chains, and are spaced at easy intervals for leisurely travel. Hostellers do their own cooking and tidy the hostels. There are separate sleeping quarters for girls and boys; and each hostel is supervised by house parents.

At present, the national honorary president of the American Youth Hostels, is Mary E. Woolley, president-emeritus of Mount Holyoke college. The English representative at the convention will be Mrs. Ruth Catchpool of England, temporarily in the United States with her four children and house mother of the Northfield hostel.

Mrs. E. M. Powell has shipped her 17th box of clothing to the British War Relief.

Two Hermon Alumni Lost In The Service

Within the past two weeks, two more Hermon alumni have had their names added to the list of those who have given their lives in the service of their country.

Grover Burrough of Pelham, N. Y., a cadet training for the naval air force in Florida, was killed in a plane accident about 10 days ago. He was a Middlebury undergraduate and he had starred in field sports at Mount Hermon.

Herman August C. Gajeway of Troy, N. Y., water tender, first class, has been listed by the navy as missing from the torpedoed destroyer Kearny. He had gone from Hermon to Rensselaer Polytechnic institute, but enlisted in the navy in 1934. He had served on the U. S. Chester but last June was transferred to the Kearny.

So many Hermon men are entering the services that the alumni office, while entering their individual records, has not had time to compile a master honor roll. A bronze table names 1129 who served in the army and 221 in the navy during the World war. Besides the 69 of that group who gave their lives one won the Victoria cross, three the distinguished service cross and seven the croix de guerre.

At Hermon assembly the deaths of Burrough and Gajeway were announced Monday and the entire school stood in silence to their memory.

Ozro D. Adams

Ozro D. Adams, 80, of Northfield Farms, long a resident of this town, died last Friday night at the Farren Memorial hospital, where he had been for only a few days, although in ill health for some time at his home.

Ozro Daniel Adams was born January 25, 1861 at Sherburne, Vt., the son of Elijah Watkins and Hannah (Benson) Adams, and descendant of Henry Adams, Puritan, who emigrated from Devonshire, England to Massachusetts about 1636, and was the ancestor of Presidents John Adams and John Quincy Adams. He had been a resident of Northfield 51 years and retired from farming in 1933. He married Cora Parker in 1890. She died in 1922. He married Rose Whitaker Wood of Worcester in 1924, and she died in 1930. He was an active citizen and a good neighbor, who was respected by all who knew him. He leaves only one daughter, Miss Florence H. Adams of Boston.

Funeral services were held at Kidders Funeral parlors Monday afternoon with Rev. W. H. Giebel officiating. Burial was in the West Northfield cemetery.

On Our Highway

Splendid progress has been made on the road construction work on Main street and that portion which has been prepared, from Pauchaug hill to the Nye residence will be completed, as well as that portion from the brook where the bridge is being built to the town hall. It is reported that the remainder through lower Main street will await the coming of spring and workmen are now filling the holes with a substantial covering. That part of the completed roadway will be fully available to the public soon and the shoulders and sides will be cleared. The bridge work is going on steadily as well as the laying of the drain pipes. Traffic is still being regulated on the road.

Large Enrollment In Valley Music Center Classes Have Started

The Pioneer Valley Music Center with Harold A. Leslie as director has begun its courses of study at Greenfield and the enrollment has exceeded all expectations. In the list may be found the professional and the amateur musician, some beginners and all from 3 to 60 years of age. The faculty consists of well known teachers, highly competent, who have entered into their work with zeal and enthusiasm and in a former issue of the Press, we have given their names and an outline of the plans of the Center.

Harold A. Leslie

The Pioneer Valley Music Center offers a new approach to musical training which includes the finest, individual instruction, ensemble playing and lectures on music appreciation under a distinguished faculty. These advantages are included in such an inexpensive tuition rate that they may be enjoyed by all. Departments and courses are also being offered for the profession or amateur adult, as well as student.

Those who have already enrolled from Northfield and its vicinity as part of the student body are Helen Howard, Betty Phelps, Helen Savcheff, Marion Annis, George Phelps, David Fleckles, Pliny Burrows, Jr. John Burrows, Marvin Johnson and Roland Thurber. If there are others who contemplate a course of study, they should write Mr. Leslie at 36 1/2 Russell street, Greenfield or phone Greenfield 4924.

Mrs. C. A. Ware

Mrs. Eva J. (Denison) Ware, at the age of 90, passed away at her home in the upper Farms, Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

She was born in Leyden, Oct. 13, 1851, daughter of Edward and Elizabeth Denison and upon her marriage to Clinton A. Ware, Dec. 3, 1873, by the Rev. Mr. Sutherland of the Unitarian church, came to Northfield to reside. Mr. Ware died in 1928. She was a member of the Unitarian church and of Northfield chapter, Order of the Eastern Star. Mrs. Ware loved the community and its people. She was devoted to her home and family, of high character and active in her church responsibilities.

Surviving are two sons Burton and Robert at home, two grandchildren, Verne of this town and Mrs. Doris Tyler of Brattleboro. Also five great-grandchildren. The funeral services will be held at Kidders funeral parlors on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

School District Meeting

The semi-annual meeting of the Northfield school district, which includes Northfield, Barnardston, Gill, Leyden and Warwick, will be held here at the Center school Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Members of the school committees from these towns and teachers will attend and give an informal reception to Supt. and Mrs. Robert Taylor.

Rev. C. C. Woodruff Dies In New Jersey Stricken Playing Golf

Rev. Charles Clarence Woodruff, pastor of Centenary Methodist church of Newark, N. J., and well known summer resident of East Northfield for many years, was stricken with a heart attack, while playing golf at the Valley View Golf club in Hanover, N. J., last Monday and died immediately. He was 66 years old and was born in Glen Gardner, N. J. After graduating from New York university and Drew university, he entered the ministry and held pastorates at Little Falls, Roselle Park, Ralaway, Elizabeth and East Orange, N. J., before going to the Centenary church in 1931. From 1919 to 1925 he was superintendent of the Patterson, N. J. district of the Methodist church. Mr. Woodruff had not been well for some time and had an extended vacation, spending the entire summer at his cottage on Rustic Ridge with his family. He enjoyed golfing and this was his exercise and diversion in the open air. For many years he was president of the Rustic Ridge association and did much for its welfare and improvement. All in Northfield who knew him, found him a good friend and a noble character. Surviving are his wife, Mary Myrtle Young Woodruff, a daughter, Miss Dorothy Woodruff, and a son, Roger Woodruff of Maplewood, N. J., also a brother, A. A. Woodruff of Fairfield Ct. The funeral service was held Wednesday evening at the Centenary church in Newark.

Senior High Play Is "Tom Sawyer"

When one reads Mark Twain's great book, "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer," and is asked his favorite passage, one is usually at a loss for an answer, for it contains so much that is delightful and thrilling. Some like the incident of Tom's having to stay at home and whitewash the fence on a Saturday afternoon, when he wants to be with his "gang." They love to recall how Tom finally manages to have the fence whitewashed without doing a stroke of work himself, but by making his comrades believe that he is the only one in the world who can do the job to his Aunt Polly's satisfaction. His playmates are anxious to prove that they, too, are competent, that they even pay Tom for the privilege of doing his work. Tom discovered a great law of human action, without knowing it—namely, that in order to make a man or boy covet it is only necessary to make the thing difficult to attain and that work consists of whatever one is obliged to do and play consists of what one is not obliged to do. The stage setting will represent the interior of Aunt Polly's home in Missouri, where she lives with her nephews, Tom Sawyer, and his half-brother, Sidney, and her niece, Mary. Those who attend the high school senior play will meet all of Mark Twain's famous people on the evening of Friday, Nov. 7 at the town hall.

To Sell Parcels Tax Title Lands

Several parcels of land, upon which the town holds tax titles and which have not been redeemed within the two-year limit, will be offered for sale on Saturday, Nov. 1, 1941 at one o'clock at the town hall.

County Church Club Meets In Greenfield

The Franklin County Congregational club will hold its annual fall meeting next Tuesday evening at the Weldon hotel in Greenfield. Dinner will be served at 6:45 o'clock and the guest speaker will be Luther A. Weigle, Dean of Yale university and President of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. His address promises to be of much interest.

Worthwhile To Visit M.S.C. Big Flower Show

Announcement is made that the annual fall horticultural show of the State college at Amherst will be Friday, Saturday and Sunday, November 7, 8, 9, in the physical education building on the campus. The show which annually attracts thousands of visitors from all over the New England states will be built around a Victorian garden as the central theme. The show will include exhibits of the work of the students in landscape, floriculture, and horticulture. There will be an immense display of chrysanthemums. Members of the Northfield Garden club are invited to attend and see the display and all citizens of this town have a cordial invitation. Northfield should be well represented.

Mineral Club Will Hold Session Here

The Conn. Valley Mineral club will meet on Tuesday evening, Nov. 4 at 8 o'clock in the Art room of the Home Science building on the Seminary campus. Dr. B. M. Shaub of Smith college will talk on gems, gem minerals and jewelry, with natural color lantern slides; and the mineral collection left to Northfield Seminary by Mr. Webster of Northfield will be on exhibition. The club is arranging its meetings in various sections of the valley this year and would be happy to have those interested in the subject join them for the evening.

Asks $15,000 Damages

Rosemary I. Mroczek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mroczek of Maple street has filed suits totaling $15,000 against three defendants in superior court, seeking compensation for alleged permanent injuries. The suits are the aftermath of a motor-pedestrian accident at Northfield on Oct. 23, 1940.

The defendants are the New York Auction Company, Inc., William Tichenor of New York City, and William R. Craig of Matawan, N. J., from whom the plaintiff seeks $5000 each. Craig allegedly was the driver of the car which struck the plaintiff, who charges that the car was the property of the Auction company of which Tichenor was an officer.

The Fortnightly

Last Friday afternoon the Fortnightly heard an address by Prof. A. T. Arze of Williams college on the subject, "The Problems of Hemispheric Solidarity." Prof. Arze, a Bolivian, who has been in this country only three months, stressed the fact that the friendship between the two Americas must grow and make this hemisphere more of a whole.

Rev. Benjamin F. White, accompanied by Mrs. White at the piano, played selections on the trumpet. A silver collection was taken for aid to China. The tea committee was Mrs. Allen Wright, Mrs. Laurie Harris and Mrs. Clayton George.

The next meeting of the Fortnightly will be the annual luncheon at the Northfield hotel, Nov. 8 at 1 o'clock. The hostesses will be the executive committee.

At Northwestern

Twenty-eight students from Massachusetts are among the 6300 full-time students enrolled at Northwestern university this year. In addition, there are more than 8600 part-time students taking courses on the university's Chicago campus, where the evening divisions are located.

Northwestern university, which has one of the most beautiful campuses in America, located on Lake Michigan, continues its growth this year with the completion of three new buildings, the new $6,000,000 technological institute building, made possible by a $6,735,000 gift from the Walter P. Murphy foundation, and the new Lutkin Memorial hall, an auditorium for the school of music. Also the new Wesley Memorial hospital which will be ready for occupancy soon.

Among the students from this state is Ernest Nestor Kirmann, graduate, of East Northfield, and on leave from the faculty of the Northfield schools.

Young People's Forum

There is an open invitation to all Forum members and their friends in the community to attend a real Halloween party at Reed's residence on Main street at 7:30 o'clock this Friday evening. Come disguised if you wish and wear old clothes.

TOWN TOPICS

Miss Helen Handy is enjoying a week's vacation and taking a motor trip.

The local chapter of the Eastern Star will hold a Halloween dance at the town hall on next Wednesday evening, Oct. 29, from 8 to 12 with music by the Musical Bargeons.

The school committee and teachers of Leyden will tender a dinner party to L. W. Robbins, of this town, retired school superintendent and Mrs. Robbins at the Leyden town hall this Friday evening.

The Anderson house on Highland avenue is on "the skids" and actually rolling along to its new location on the lot prepared for it on Holton street. The contractors are doing a fine piece of work. The row of hemlocks on Mr. Matern's property were temporarily removed to make way for its passage between his house and the garage.

Rev. Philip Phelps and W. F. Townsend are remaining at their cottages on Rustic Ridge to enjoy another week of this fine autumn weather.

A recent visitor at the Youth Hotel in this town was Haridis T. Musumdar, an authority on India and a close follower and co-worker of Mahatma Gandhi. He expects to return today as a guest visitor at the annual convention of the hostels.

Principal Richard A. Cobb of Northfield high school will preside at the department meeting for the seventh, eighth and ninth grades at the conference of the Franklin County Teachers' association meeting in Greenfield next Friday.

Brattleboro Memorial hospital is short of nurses and local women as volunteers are offering their services. More young women are needed to study nursing.

After the service at the Congregational church next Sunday morning, there will be a short session to vote upon several candidates for church membership.

Miss Mildred Orr came up from Catonsville, Md., over the week-end for a visit with Mrs. Clara Buck who is convalescing after a recent operation.

Yesterday, Thursday, there was an all day sewing meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the Congregational church. Luncheon was at noon.

Local employees of the Lawrence Leather Co., at Winchester, N. H., were informed last week that there will be an increase of five cents an hour to their wage scale, making the minimum wage 55 cents. The tannery is running to capacity on national defense contracts.

Northfield Grange

There will be a meeting of the Grange next Tuesday evening. Several members of the Grange took the sixth degree Wednesday evening in Athol. A Grange church service will be held in Orange next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the speaker being Mrs. Marion Johnson of Chelmsford Pomona Grange.

County Health Group

The Franklin County Public Health Association held a dinner meeting at the Adelphi Inn at Ashfield last week Thursday evening. Dr. Helen Wiestling, psychiatrist of Northampton state hospital, spoke briefly and Dr. Dorothy Oak of the state department of public health spoke of a study being made in visual education in schools.

Miss Juliet Whitteker, consultant in school nursing was present for her last meeting. She will take the same position in Barnstable county, Nov. 1.

Friends in Northfield regret her leaving Franklin county, which she has served so efficiently and wish her success in her new field.

Miss Euphrasia Purrington, our district nurse attended the meeting.

TWISTING THE DIALS

with A. L. Simon

When you twist your dials and hear a resonant voice come thru your loudspeaker the music doesn't leave the studio and float through the air with the greatest of ease. Lots of things happen before it finally reaches the radio sets of listeners.

Last week we visited WHN's new transmitter—the most powerful independent station in the country and it is only when you pass through a maze of equipment, wires, gadgets and cables that you realize the magnitude of engineering skill required to transfer a voice in a studio to a loudspeaker in your home.

When the music hits the microphone, that is only the beginning. From there it passes through a studio control room, thence by wire to a master control room, and then it passes through the streets of the city until it comes to the main office of the Telephone company.

Once again, telephone lines pick up the music and send it whizzing along for miles to the actual transmitter. If we use WHN for an example, the voice then races through a quarter of a million dollars worth of equipment. Here a tube costs $1700 and the meters and gadgets seem to be in the hundreds.

From this point it has to travel by coaxial cable many yards to reach the towers and then it shoots up the steel structures and out into the air to be picked up by sets all over the country.

And all that takes less than a second!

Ernest W. Dunklee, master of Windham County Pomona Grange is attending the Vermont State Grange session in Burlington this week.

Deep Woods: Autumn

The orioles follow
The wren and swallow;
The phoebes go
Before the snow
On a course they know.

The bear in his den,
The raccoon, too,
Prepare to sleep
The winter through
In the narrow glen
Where the red fox trails
The caribou.

The winds awaken.
The elm, the yew,
Their boughs bereft,
Their nests forsaken,
Are bleak and shaken.
The leaves are brittle
On the ground.
The forests muse,
The lakes are bound,
Of song or sound.

EDITORIAL

MUST KNOW

The Wall Street Journal in its columns recently has this to say about small newspapers:

"Country newspapers look like one of the potential casualties of the arms effort. Already they suffer from advertising losses. Retailers are trimming sales promotion for defense-scarce articles (radios, refrigerators, washing machines, etc.) Most small weeklies and dailies run just around the break-even point anyway."

The sad part of it, is that it's so, but small newspapers are not the only ones to feel the "pinch."

WORTH DEFENDING

"This is your country and my country. All of us belong to it; all of us own it; all of us help run it."

"You have a home here and I have a home here. We want to keep our homes. We want to keep on living in them—pretty much the same way we always have. With all our faults it's a pretty good way of living."

In those words William S. Knudsen summed up the things that America is preparing to defend. Today our industry is turning out growing mountains of defense materials and we are girding ourselves for sacrifices so that we can preserve this "pretty good way of living."

Mr. Knudsen says he thinks our way of living is still worth defending. So does every other American who knows the value of freedom.

CHANGE OF FACE

The drive to amend, change, or totally repeal the Neutrality Act will in all probability succeed—though there will be plenty of debate in Congress before the isolationist group of senators and representatives is finished with its opposition. And the fact that success is likely, is a striking indication of the tremendous change in American public opinion that has taken place in the last two years.

The Neutrality Act was passed at a time when the sentiment of this country was overwhelmingly opposed to direct or indirect intervention in the war. The bulk of the people felt that the war was purely Europe's business, and none of ours. For the most part, they hoped that Hitler would be defeated, but they didn't see any reason for spending their money, their resources, and perhaps their lives to beat him. They wanted to keep American ships and American citizens out of the war zones, and they wanted their country's foreign trade to be on a cash-and-carry basis, with foreign buyers taking their purchases home in their own ships.

The change that has taken place since those days is nothing short of revolutionary. Mr. Willkie has called upon the members of his party in Congress to take the lead in amending or repealing the Neutrality Act. That shows the way the wind blows. The principal Republican newspapers, are denouncing the members of that party who still hold to isolationist principles. The Democrats, with few exceptions, are following the President.

SILENT SOLDIERS

The four horsemen have ridden hard this year. They have brought War, Famine, Pestilence, and Death to a large part of the world. It will take every last ounce of strength and knowledge possessed by mankind to halt their sweeping horror. Before many weeks pass, the great annual Christmas Seal campaign will be on in earnest. The funds from these little seals are used to fight one of the most powerful of the horsemen's allies—Tuberculosis.

Tuberculosis is still a major problem. With the world again facing conditions that will make a fertile field for a new outbreak of the disease, it behooves the individual to look with new significance this year on the cheery seals adorning his greeting cards. They are silent soldiers in a gigantic battle, a crucial battle between humanity—and the four horsemen.

Know Massachusetts by State Planning Board

Do you know that the 1940 agricultural census shows that the amount of plowable pasture land in Massachusetts has increased to 230,025 acres, a gain of 73 per cent in the five years 1935-40. The increase apparently came mostly from clearing scrub and woodland. . . . The first friction matches in the country are claimed to have been made in Chicopee in 1835; some of them are still in the possession of old Chicopee families. . . . The first motorcycle was a steam-powered two-wheeled machine and was invented by W. W. Austin of Winthrop in 1868. . . . The first music chamber organization was the Mendelssohn Quintette club of Boston and its first concert was given at Chickering Hall, Dec. 14, 1849. . . . The first orchestra was founded about 1810-11 in Boston by Johann Christian Gottlieb Graupner. It is believed to have been the original philharmonic orchestra. The last concert was given at the Pantheon, Boylston Square, Boston, Nov. 24, 1824. . . . The first naval officers' training school was established at Boston in 1815 under the guidance of William Bainbridge, a naval leader distinguished in the war of Tripoli. . . . The first successful newspaper in America was The Boston News-Letter, which was first issued April 24, 1704 by John Campbell, a postmaster. . . . Massachusetts up to 1875 made nearly all the shoes in America. . . . The Boston & Albany railroad came into being in 1867 through a merger of the old Boston & Worcester and the Western Railroad, making a single road from Boston to Albany. . . . Some of the examples of the scientific and inventive genius of Massachusetts men were the cotton gin, the sewing machine, ether, the telephone, atomic chemistry and plant breeding. . . . The first playground for children was erected in Boston in 1886 in the yard of the Children's Mission. Three piles of yellow sand were brought there. . . . The first Boston school appropriation for playgrounds was made in 1889. . . . In 1865 the Mass. Institute of Technology established the first American school for architects, with William R. Ware as its first director. Prior to the end of the Civil War no academic training of architects was given in the State. . . . On Aug. 31 this year Massachusetts had $696,691 worth of work under construction to eliminate or safeguard grade crossings and approval of another $1,158,000 worth to be built, nearly all of the cost being paid by the federal government. . . . "The nation's major cities must be redesigned to provide small, self-sufficient neighborhoods."—Gordon Whitnall at the Boston conference of Urban Land Institute.

The Back Yard Gardener

By G. O. Olson

Well, folks, I thought I'd bring you up to date on my poultry project. I'm surprised at the interest my friends display in my enterprise, particularly the results. The other day I met Gordon Swan, a friend who works in a radio station in Boston, and he asked me what luck I was having and would I send him some bulletins and other information about a home flock, which of course I did.

As I wrote a few weeks ago, I have a dozen hens and from Sept. 5 to Oct. 18 they produced 14 dozen eggs. During September they averaged a bit better than 3 eggs a day and for the first 18 days of October they averaged 5 eggs a day. For several days we had 6 and twice we had 7 eggs a day. So you can see they are on the up-swing.

Figuring just feed costs that makes my eggs stand me between 22 and 23 cents a dozen. Of course next year when I sell them or eat them I'll be able to figure the thing down to actual costs. But I should be able to get back the approximate purchase price whether I sell them or whether I eat them. When we started with the hens, the eggs we were buying were 55 cents a dozen and on the 18th of October they were 50 cents a dozen, so you can see that I'm making a little money on the proposition.

Writing about eggs brings to mind the fact that eggs are one of the items being called for in this big food for defense campaign. The government is asking the farmers to raise more of the protective foods—milk, eggs, veg-

Mortgagee's Sale

By virtue and in execution of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Nellie A. Joalin to Greenfield Co-operative Bank dated September 5th, 1935, and recorded in the Franklin County Registry of Deeds, Book 814, Page 41, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at Public Auction on the premises in Northfield, Mass., at three o'clock, P. M. November 10th, 1941, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, to wit:—a certain tract or parcel of land, with the buildings thereon, situated in Northfield in said County of Franklin, bounded and described as follows, viz:—Lot No. 47 of Rustic Ridge, Tract No. 2, as shown on plan of said tract filed in the Franklin County Registry of Deeds, Plan Book 1, Page 180, to which reference is hereby made. Said tract contains 12,117 square feet, more or less, and is bounded northerly by land of the Northfield Seminary, 53 1/2 feet, more or less; easterly by Pine Ridge Road, so-called, 143 feet, more or less; southerly by Ledge Way, so-called, 9 1/2 feet, more or less; and westerly by lot No. 39 of Rustic Ridge, Tract No. 1, so-called, 176 feet, more or less, and is the tract conveyed to me by deed of Myra L. Higgins dated October 30th, 1934, recorded in said Registry of Deeds, Book 801, Page 328. Said premises are conveyed subject to any of the restrictions and agreements appurtenant thereto, which are contained in deed of Albert G. Moody to Clara S. Thompson dated June 14th, 1906, recorded in said Registry of Deeds, Book 519, Page 247. Said premises will be conveyed subject to all unpaid taxes and other municipal liens thereon. Two hundred dollars will be required to be paid, as earnest money, by the purchaser, at the time and place of sale, and the balance within ten days, upon delivery of the deed. etables, and similar products. I'm glad to note that in this campaign for food to win the war they're going at it in an organized way. They've studied the thing out as to how much need there will be for increased production and they've allotted this over the country, depending upon the amount of certain foodstuffs that ordinarily are produced in the various sections of the country.

Here in Massachusetts milk and eggs are the only two farm products on which they recommend an increase. They also recommend that every farm family have a farm garden for home consumption. You notice I say "recommend" because that's what they are actually doing. No farmer is going to be compelled to increase his milk production or his poultry production. If he feels that he can do so and still make a reasonable profit at present price relationships, then he is simply helping in producing the increased food supply which will be needed.

As I understand it, they are going to send men around to visit every farmer and see whether he can increase egg production 10 per cent an dmilk 3 per cent, which are the goals set for Massachusetts.

I read that consumption of eggs in Massachusetts was 10 per cent more in 1941 than in 1940 and that milk went up 10 to 15 per cent. As I understand it, eggs and milk produced in Massachusetts will be to take care of the increased consumption of 1942 and the fact that other areas will be shipping less to this state.

Factory workers have more money and they will buy more of these food products than over the past several years.

Woman Pioneer Honored

In the presence of Governor Mills, former Governor Weeks, Dr. Paul D. Moody, and a large assembly, there was unveiled at Middlebury last Saturday a memorial monument to Emma Hart Willard, pioneer of higher education for women.

An address was given by Miss Eliza Kellas, principal of the Emma Willard School at Troy, N. Y., first normal school in the United States, which was founded by Mrs. Willard.

Emma Hart came to Middlebury in 1807 from Connecticut to teach school. After her marriage to Dr. John Willard she became interested in providing for women education opportunities denied to them. She conducted a "female seminary" at her home and began there to try out her theories, teaching many of the same subjects then taught at near-by Middlebury college.

18146 Commonwealth of Massachusetts LAND COURT

To Josephine Bistrek, Edward Bistrek, Lucas Scryba and Clinton A. Ware, of Northfield, in the County of Franklin and said Commonwealth; Jennie C. Field, now or formerly of said Northfield, or her heirs, devisees or legal representatives; Central Vermont Railway Company and Boston & Maine Railroad Company, duly existing corporations having usual places of business in Boston, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth; the said Commonwealth of Massachusetts; W. C. Mason, of Pawlet, in the State of Vermont; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Nellie Repeta and Michael Repeta, of said Northfield, to register and confirm their title in the following described land:

Two certain parcels of land with the buildings thereon, situated in said Northfield, bounded and described as follows:

Parcel One: Easterly by the Old Road from Northfield to Montague; Southerly by land now or formerly of Clinton A. Ware, the line running in part across the new road to Montague; Westerly by the Old Road to Montague and the State Highway; and Northerly, easterly and Northerly by land now or formerly of Edward Bistrek et al.

Parcel Two: Easterly by the said State Highway; Southerly by other land now or formerly of Edward Bistrek et al.; Westerly by land now or formerly of the Central Vermont Railway Company; and Northerly by land now or formerly of Lucas Scryba.

Petitioners claim as appurtenant to the above-described land the rights, privileges and easements, and subject to the agreements and conditions contained in deed from Sanford J. Edson to Delmer M. Jewett, dated November 29, 1916, duly recorded in Book 623, Page 253.

The above-described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition you or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston (at the Court House), or in the office of the Assistant Recorder of said Court at the Registry of Deeds at Greenfield in the County of Franklin where a copy of the plan filed with said petition is deposited on or before the third day of November next.

Unless an appearance is so filed by or for you, your default will be recorded, the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

WITNESS, JOHN E. FENTON, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this second day of October in the year nineteen hundred and forty-one. Attest with Seal of said Court. CHARLES A. SOUTHWORTH, Recorder.
